SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Data from the 1977 Census of Retail Trade show that Rhode Island's 8,138 retail stores had sales totaling $2.8 billion, an increase of 39.2 percent over sales reported in 1972 when the last such census was taken.

Grocery stores sales in 1977 accounted for 20.2 percent of the State's total sales by retailers compared to 18.8 percent in 1972. Other leading retail kinds of business in 1977 were new car dealers with 13.4 percent, department stores with 10.5 percent, gasoline service stations with 7.7 percent, and eating places with 7.9 percent.

There were 1,445 inhabitants for each grocery store in the State in 1977, 692 inhabitants for each eating place, 6,466 inhabitants for each furniture store, 3,962 inhabitants for each jewelry store, and 27,388 inhabitants for each department store.

Annual sales for all retailers in the State averaged $344,329 per establishment compared to $237,084 in 1972. In 1977, grocery stores averaged $878,947 per establishment; department stores, $8,657,529; eating places, $165,236; furniture stores, $273,375; and jewelry stores, $141,468.

The per capita retail sales for grocery stores in the State were $608, $316 in department stores, $238 in eating places, $42 in furniture stores, and $36 in jewelry stores.

For establishments with payroll in 1977, the sales per employee for retailers in the State averaged $50,477. Eating places reported sales per employee of $16,052 which contrasts sharply with the $142,423 recorded by new car dealers.

The 1977 payroll of retailers in the State amounted to $333.9 million, up 32.7 percent from 1972. Payroll as a percent of sales of establishments with payroll averaged 12.3 percent for all retailers, 6.5 percent for gasoline service stations, and 25.6 percent for eating places.

There were 53,580 paid employees (full- and part-time) engaged in retail trade in the State as of mid-March 1977. Eating places were the largest employers with 13,409 employees, followed by grocery stores with 7,516 employees, and department stores with 6,706 employees.

Providence County led the counties in the State, accounting for 57.4 percent of total sales by retailers. Providence had the largest sales among the cities in the State, accounting for 16.6 percent.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Data from the 1977 Census of Retail Trade show that South Carolina's 26,897 retail stores had sales totaling $8.4 billion, an increase of 61.9 percent over sales reported in 1972 when the last such census was taken.

Grocery stores sales in 1977 accounted for 23.7 percent of the State's total sales by retailers compared to 22.6 percent in 1972. Other leading retail kinds of business in 1977 were new car dealers with 16.4 percent, department stores with 7.9 percent, gasoline service stations with 8.6 percent, and eating places with 6.7 percent.

There were 629 inhabitants for each grocery store in the State in 1977, 850 inhabitants for each eating place, 3,285 inhabitants for each furniture store, 7,488 inhabitants for each jewelry store, and 24,699 inhabitants for each department store.

Annual sales for all retailers in the State averaged $310,454 per establishment compared to $205,315 in 1972. In 1977, grocery stores averaged $442,492 per establishment; department stores, $5,781,965; eating places, $168,812; furniture stores, $240,509; and jewelry stores, $146,402.

The per capita retail sales for grocery stores in the State were $703; department stores, $234; eating places, $198; furniture stores, $73; and jewelry stores, $20.

For establishments with payroll in 1977, the sales per employee for retailers in the State averaged $54,235. Eating places reported sales per employee of $16,646 which contrasts sharply with the $100,691 recorded by mobile home dealers.

The 1977 payroll of retailers in the State amounted to $895 million, up 64.8 percent from 1972. Payroll as a percent of sales of establishments with payroll averaged 11.3 percent for all retailers, 6.7 percent for gasoline service stations, and 23.6 percent for eating places.

There were 145,799 paid employees (full- and part-time) engaged in retail trade in the State as of mid-March 1977. Eating places were the largest employers with 32,591 employees, followed by grocery stores with 23,801 employees and department stores with 15,333 employees.

Greenville County led the counties in the State, accounting for 11.4 percent of total sales by retailers. Columbia had the largest sales among the cities in the State, accounting for 5.8 percent.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Data from the 1977 Census of Retail Trade show that South Dakota's 7,622 retail stores had sales totaling $2.2 billion, an increase of 66.6 percent over sales reported in 1972 when the last such census was taken.

Grocery stores sales in 1977 accounted for 17.8 percent of the State's total sales by retailers compared to 18.9 percent in 1972. Other leading retail kinds of business in 1977 were new car dealers with 18.0 percent, department stores with 5.8 percent, gasoline service stations with 11.0 percent, and eating places with 6.8 percent.

There were 1,204 inhabitants for each grocery store in the State in 1977, 639 inhabitants for each eating place, 5,057 inhabitants for each furniture store, 5,461 inhabitants for each jewelry store, and 24,383 inhabitants for each department store.

Annual sales for all retailers in the State averaged $286,511 per establishment compared to $170,760 in 1972. In 1977, grocery stores averaged $687,011 per establishment; department stores, $4,538,679; eating places, $138,444; furniture stores, $313,993; and jewelry stores, $108,272.

The per capita retail sales for grocery stores in the State were $571; department stores, $186; eating places, $217; furniture stores, $62; and jewelry stores, $20.

For establishments with payroll in 1977, the sales per employee for retailers in the State averaged $50,294. Eating places reported sales per employee of $12,290 which contrasts sharply with the $119,882 recorded by mobile home dealers.

The 1977 payroll of retailers in the State amounted to $237 million, up 71.4 percent from 1972. Payroll as a percent of sales of establishments with payroll averaged 11.3 percent for all retailers, 7.1 percent for gasoline service stations, and 25.8 percent for eating places.

There were 41,628 paid employees (full- and part-time) engaged in retail trade in the State as of mid-March 1977. Eating places were the largest employers with 11,751 employees, followed by grocery stores with 5,479 employees, and new car dealers with 2,987 employees.

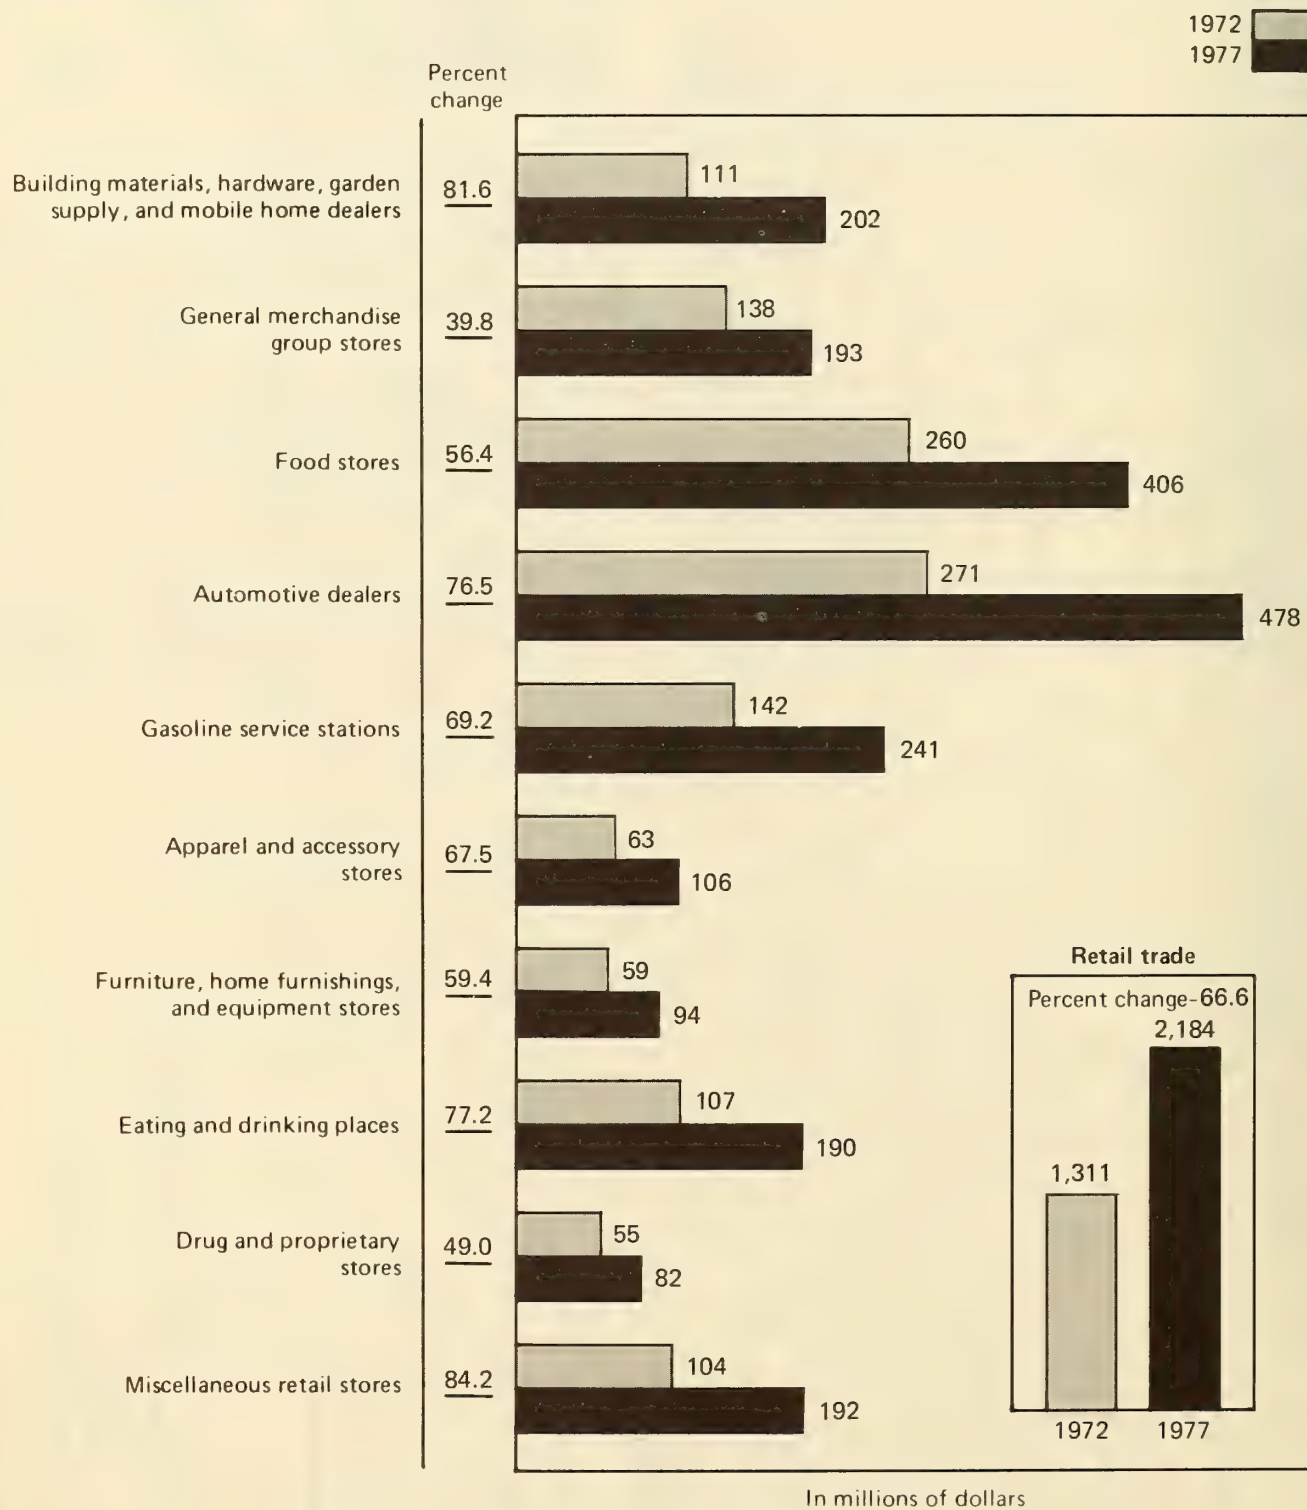

Minnehaha County led the counties in the State, accounting for 22.6 percent of total sales by retailers. Sioux Falls had the largest sales among the cities in the State, accounting for 19.2 percent.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Data from the 1977 Census of Retail Trade show that Tennessee's 38,530 retail stores had sales totaling $13.7 billion, an increase of 62.3 percent over sales reported in 1972 when the last such census was taken.

Grocery stores sales in 1977 accounted for 21.4 percent of the State's total sales by retailers compared to 21.0 percent in 1972. Other leading retail kinds of business in 1977 were new car dealers with 19.4 percent, department stores with 9.9 percent, gasoline service stations with 8.4 percent, and eating places with 6.8 percent.

There were 691 inhabitants for each grocery store in the State in 1977, 812 inhabitants for each eating place, 3,882 inhabitants for each furniture store, 7,672 inhabitants for each jewelry store, and 21,188 inhabitants for each department store.

Annual sales for all retailers in the State averaged $355,817 per establishment compared to $229,990 in 1972. In 1977, grocery stores averaged $485,882 per establishment; department stores, $6,873,604; eating places, $182,248; furniture stores, $286,193; and jewelry stores, $176,987.

The per capita retail sales for grocery stores in the State were $703; department stores, $324; eating places, $224; furniture stores, $74; and jewelry stores, $23.

For establishments with payroll in 1977, the sales per employee for retailers in the State averaged $55,669. Eating places reported sales per employee of $15,795 which contrasts sharply with the $121,223 recorded by mobile home dealers.

The 1977 payroll of retailers in the State amounted to $1.5 billion, up 63.1 percent from 1972. Payroll as a percent of sales of establishments with payroll averaged 11.3 percent for all retailers, 7.0 percent for gasoline service stations, and 24.3 percent for eating places.

There were 235,225 paid employees (full- and part-time) engaged in retail trade in the State as of mid-March 1977. Eating places were the largest employers with 57,954 employees, followed by grocery stores with 34,236 employees, and department stores with 29,359 employees.

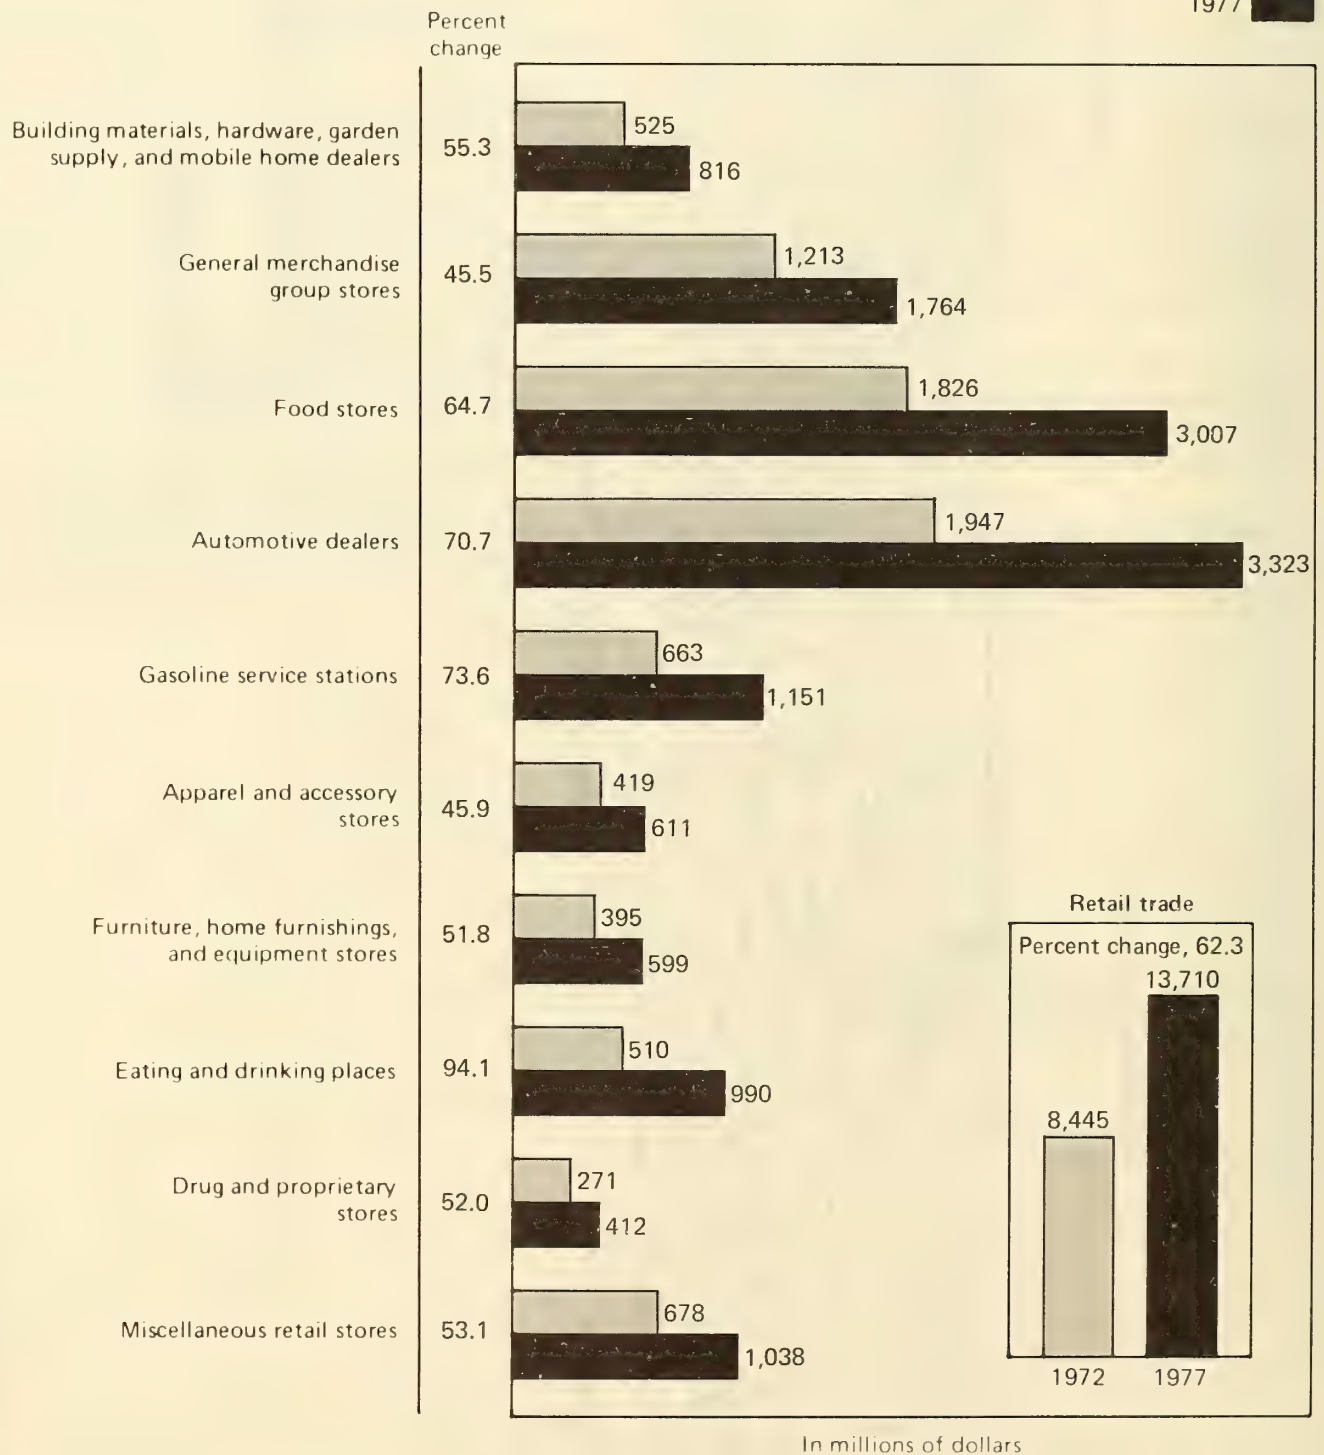

Shelby County led the counties in the State, accounting for 19.3 percent of total sales by retailers. Memphis had the largest sales among the cities in the State, account for 17.9 percent.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Data from the 1977 Census of Retail Trade show that Texas' 120,595 retail stores had sales totaling $45.8 billion, an increase of 78.0 percent over sales reported in 1972 when the last such census was taken.

Grocery stores sales in 1977 accounted for 20.4 percent of the State's total sales by retailers compared to 20.6 percent in 1972. Other leading retail kinds of business in 1977 were new car dealers with 19.4 percent, department stores with 10.2 percent, gasoline service stations with 7.5 percent, and eating places with 7.3 percent.

There were 890 inhabitants for each grocery store in the State in 1977, 722 inhabitants for each eating place, 4,541 inhabitants for each furniture store, 5,668 inhabitants for each jewelry store, and 24,870 inhabitants for each department store.

Annual sales for all retailers in the State averaged $379,919 per establishment compared to $225,290 in 1972. In 1977, grocery stores averaged $677,146 per establishment; department stores, $9,478,030; eating places, $196,718; furniture stores, $353,296; and jewelry stores, $208,141.

The per capita retail sales for grocery stores in the State were $760; department stores, $381; eating places, $272; furniture stores, $78; and jewelry stores, $37.

For establishments with payroll in 1977, the sales per employee for retailers in the State averaged $54,822. Eating places reported sales per employee of $15,664 which contrasts sharply with the $161,745 recorded by mobile home dealers.

The 1977 payroll of retailers in the State amounted to $5.2 billion, up 79.4 percent from 1972. Payroll as a percent of sales of establishments with payroll averaged 11.8 percent for all retailers, 7.1 percent for gasoline service stations, and 25.8 percent for eating places.

There were 808,500 paid employees (full- and part-time) engaged in retail trade in the State as of mid-March 1977. Eating places were the largest employers with 208,979 employees, followed by grocery stores with 113,178 employees, and department stores with 98,517 employees.

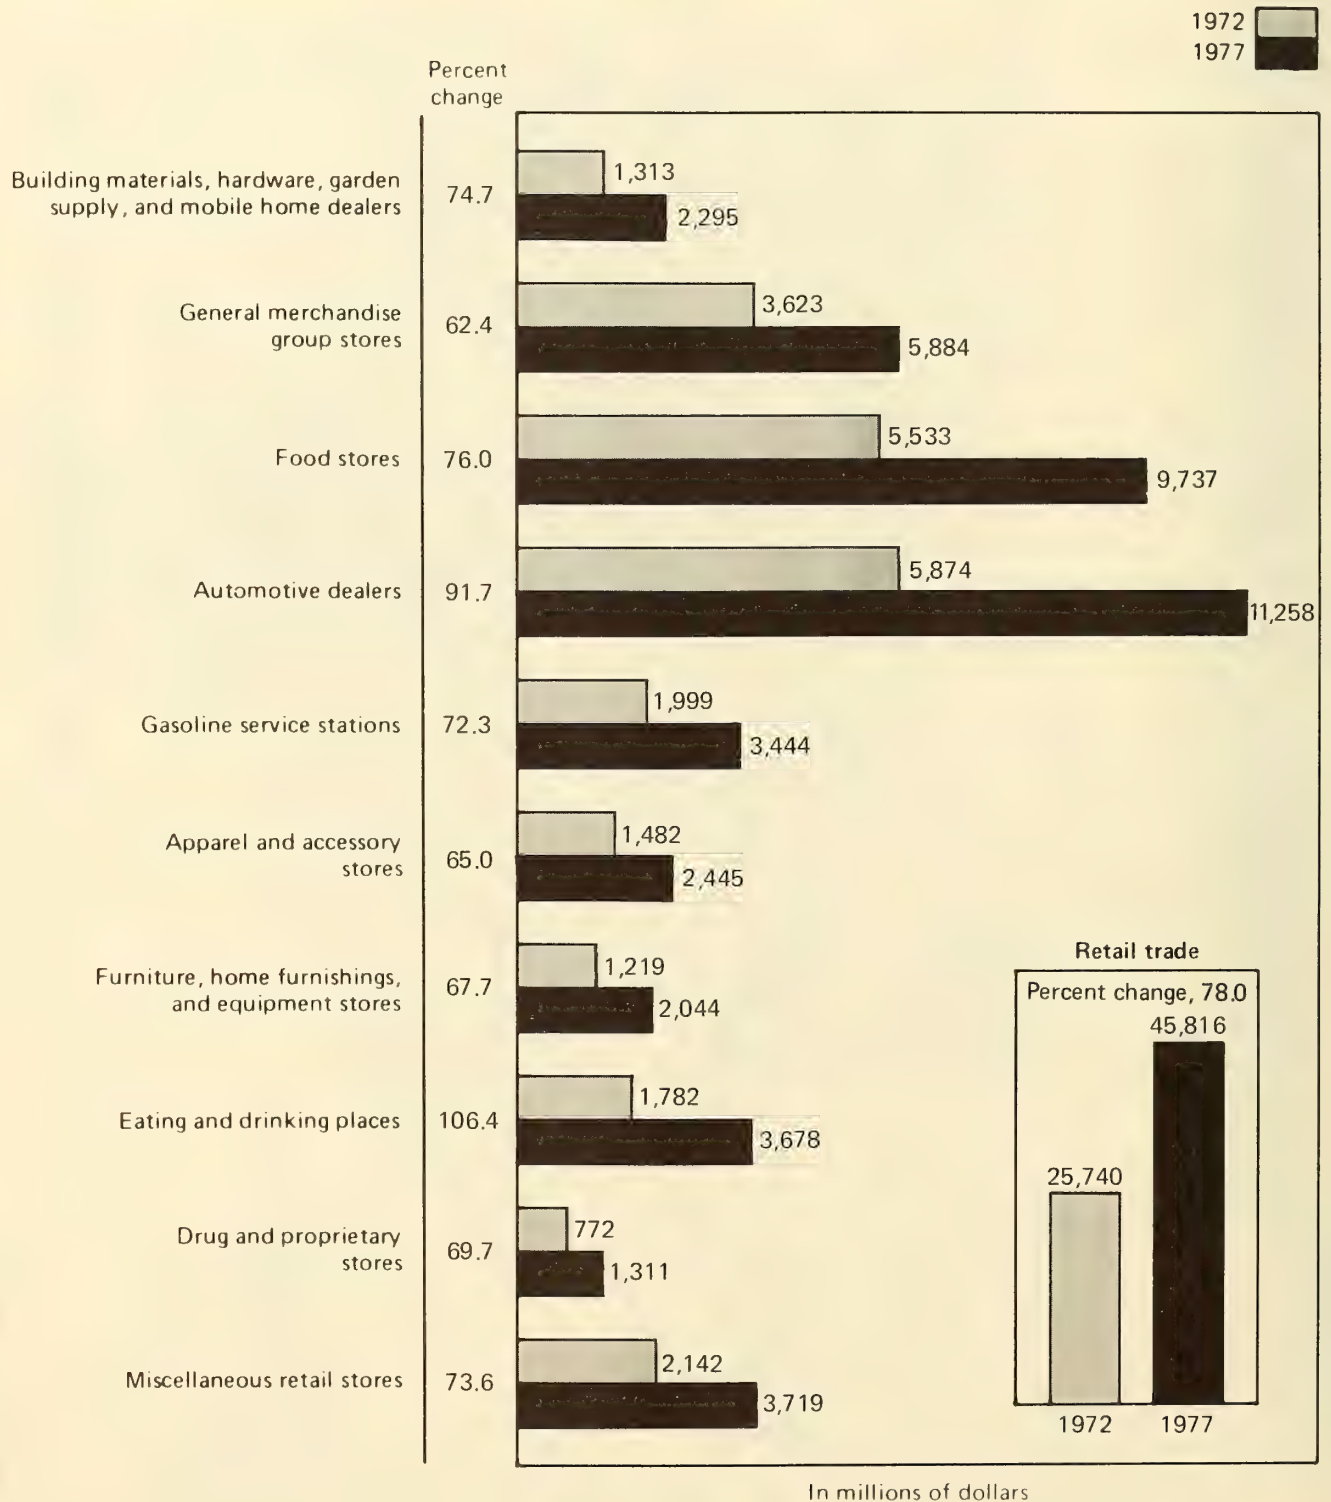

Harris County led the counties in the State, accounting for 20.4 percent of total sales by retailers. Houston had the largest sales among the cities in the State, accounting for 15.6 percent.
